

Your Pets
Deserve the Best Water!

Your Best Friend Knows ...

The physical, emotional and mental health of your human and animal family is dependent upon the quality and quantity of the water you drink. The health of your body's organs and tissues, optimum performance and resistance to injury is directly related to the properties of the water you drink.

Restructured, ionized water is the best water available because it's like drinking from a pure, high mountain, glacier-fed spring. It has four special properties:

- Alkaline pH
- Anti-oxidant
- Microclustered
- Oxygen-rich

Alkaline drinking water (also known as ionized water, or electrolyzed water) was introduced to the Japanese public decades ago. It was previously available only to commercial livestock operations, hospitals or restaurants. Now it's available for anyone to use for their beloved companion animals – and their human family and friends. Ionization is now the fastest-growing water treatment technology in North America.

Kangen is a Japanese word that means "return to origin" – referring to primal water sources. Today's mountain streams and glaciers still produce delicious, fresh, ionized water. Animals always prefer the freshest, best water when offered a choice. Test for yourself – let them choose between conventional water and Kangen ionized water and you'll see which one they drink from. In the US, Kangen Water™ is a trademark of Enagic USA, Inc.

Just like humans, animals need fresh, clean, healthy water in order to stay healthy and vibrant. Our companion animals are developing the same kind of diseases humans are – diabetes, arthritis, obesity, and degenerative joint diseases – all conditions that are caused by chronic over-acidity.

Jeff Jensen, a nutritionist who works with performance horses, says Kangen Water naturally:

- Improves muscle strength and growth
- Increases rate of recovery
- Decreases soreness
- Hydrates and oxygenates tissues
- Provides alkaline buffering minerals
- Increases overall performance level

Equine Health & Performance

Water is the most important nutrient for your horse – after all there's about 80 gallons of it in an average horse. Restructured, ionized, alkaline water helps improve tissue hydration, performance, resistance to injury and illness and recovery from competition. It increases energy, prevents degenerative diseases, and provides a source of antioxidant activity.

Nutritionist Jeff Jensen discovered that pure bred performance horses were more fluid, relaxed and handled more challenges with ease when they were given Kangen Water. The muscle tissue was more hydrated and many drugs and other treatments were unnecessary. The horses consider Kangen Water to be a treat much like a grain bucket, and won't drink other water after they have a taste of good healthy water.

Rhonda Davis, a breeder of Arabian show horses with four National Championships, was already educated about the importance of an alkaline "cool" diet for herself and her horses. She took great care to feed her champion Arabians a low-Non-Structural Carbohydrate diet, but never considered the quality of water they were drinking. This is not at all uncommon, according to Jeff Jensen. Owners of million dollar horses carefully package and ship – at great expense – their horse's supplements and feed to competitive events, yet pay NO attention to the water they give to their valuable animals!

After Rhonda learned about Kangen Water and bought a machine, she wondered what it could do for horses. "My mare, Magnetic Pashahn, was going to the big Scottsdale Arabian Show," Rhonda said. "Her routine at the show consisted of two 45-minute workouts daily, which I expected to cause swelling and inflammation in her legs. They would need to be wrapped – a common situation during competition events."

For 17 days, Rhonda brought her mare 25 gallons/day of fresh Kangen Water. "She was always eager when I arrived with fresh 9.5 pH water, and drank most of it. Over the course of the event, her legs never swelled up from inflammation and she was pain-free rather than sore. She never had to wear leg wraps the entire show whereas the other horses did. This experience showed me that Kangen Water is phenomenal for performance horses – especially those on a heavy grain diet where they are at risk for ulcers, laminitis, founder, tying up (all the man made diseases) since it neutralizes acid build-up."

"I have a dozen horses – three of them ponies – one of them not quite broke yet. We keep the ponies corralled close to the house, so I decided it would be good to give them Kangen Water. The first day I brought it out in buckets, the ponies were fighting over it. Usually we have to trick the one that's not quite broke to come around us. On the second day, when he saw me with the buckets in my hand, he came running for the water. During the next three days they drank three times more water."

Kangen Water

Great for Dogs, Cats ... and You!

Creaky, old-dog limping and tenderness is due to chronic over-acidity – organic acids from metabolism that have not been flushed out build up and cause inflammation and pain. Unfortunately, many dogs end their high-powered hunting or agility career at a young age because of over-acidity.

Towser, a Springer Spaniel recently visited the vet for chronic ear inflammation. After rinsing out the ears for several minutes with a chemical, the vet pronounced that Towser needed a $300 visit at which he would be sedated and the inside of his ear canals would be scraped with a metal curette. Luckily owner Maureane M. of Bend OR is into Kangen water and made 2.5 'strong-acid' water. Using this to rinse out the ears twice daily has completely cured the inflammation problem which is extremely common in long-eared dogs. The same 2.5 strong acid water efficiently removes plaque from dog teeth, when used with canine toothpaste.

Charlie, a 10 year old pointer pit-bull mix, had mild hip dysplasia and severe ear inflammation that his owners could never get under control. The "pep" in his step was also starting to fade. "We started giving him the 9.5 pH water to drink and used the 2.5 pH water for his ears," says owner Gerald. He started to improve after only a few days. Now, his hip is no longer a problem. "He is bounding around like a puppy again and his ears look great! The only change we made was the water we gave to Charlie."

Animals are not subject to the "placebo effect". When given the choice, animals always choose restructured ionized water over their normal well water or tap water for drinking.

placebo [plas-see-bo]: an inactive substance given to a patient usually to compare its effects with those of a real drug but sometimes for the psychological benefit gained by the patient through believing that he or she is receiving treatment.

The benefits of ionized water (both alkaline and acidic) for your pets are numerous:

- Vibrant strength and energy
- Skin, hair, and fur that's shiny, pest-free, smooth and soft
- Skin relieved of all itchiness and dryness and discomfort
- Feces and urine odors eliminated

Kangen water is super antioxidant, the best thing you can put into any body – human or animal.

Maureane's 12 year old feral cat, Star, was very fearful with a rough, dry coat that never responded to care and nutrition – her twin brother's coat was beautiful and shiny. After a couple of months on 9.5 pH Kangen Water, Star began asking for attention for the first time in her life. She now sports a beautiful, thick, glossy coat – and is one of the most affectionate cats in the household.

Vets Love It

According to nutritionists, you can cut your supplement bill in half if you provide Kangen Water to your animals, and even eliminate anti-inflammatory and joint lubrication products because of the anti-inflammatory effect of the water. When animals drink Kangen Water, vets love it because it allows them to practice preventive and performance medicine instead of dealing with persistent infections, fungus and skin conditions. Having a water ionizer that makes 2.5 pH water gives the owner control over first aid and follow-up care.

Nothing is wasted when you create good, healthy, ionized drinking water from your tap or well water for you and your animals. A good water ionizer provides alkaline, negatively charged healthy water, and also produces oxidizing 2.5 pH acid water which has many uses:

- Kill pathogens
- Kill insect pests
- Heal skin sores
- Treat yeasty ears
- Soothe itchy skin
- Treat hoof thrush
- First aid for cuts, scrapes
- Kill parasites and fungus

Owners can reduce costs when they use the variety of ionized waters for prevention and first aid or post-surgical care.
