Dr Peters' Commentary:

As Americans, we have all been indoctrinated to believe that vaccination is effective in the prevention of infectious diseases and that there are few side effects. The corporate sponsored media is scaring us all about the fearsome Covid19 virus, while Bill Gates and others are telling us to get vaccinated. My 40 years of clinical medicine and extensive review of the scientific literature on vaccinations has told me something quite different. My heart-felt recommendation is that you read the science and make your own decision.
